

Joanne Fraser – Senior Facilitator & Consultant

Location: Halifax

Joanne Fraser is a learning specialist with over 13 years experience in designing and facilitating workshops. Joanne's passion is to improve the way organizations function by helping the individuals and teams within them to learn and grow. She has facilitated a variety of leadership and people skills programs in both government and non-government organizations as well as in the private sector.

Joanne holds a Certificate in Adult Education from St. Francis Xavier University, a Master of Science in Development and International Policy, University of Bristol, England and a Bachelor of Science from the University of Saskatchewan. Joanne's energetic participatory style engages participants in an interactive learning journey.

Joanne's work has included projects such as guiding start-up teams to establish their vision, mission and objectives, helping managers to gain workplace coaching skills and facilitating within a university Adult Education Certificate Program. She regularly facilitates intercultural effectiveness sessions and communication skills workshops. For the past five years she has been involved in several Leadership Development Programs targeted to government managers.

Areas of Facilitation Expertise

- Leadership Skills
- Team Development
- Project Management
- Communication Skills
- Giving and Receiving Feedback
- Coaching Basics
- Intercultural Effectiveness

Contact us today to meet Joanne or any of our other senior facilitators.